Explanation of re-investigation results.

When re-investigating disputed information, CSC's procedure is to contact the source of the information directly, either by an automated system, by letter or by telephone. Upon receipt of your request, we will provide you with the company name and the address of the source contacted. In addition, a telephone number will be provided when available.

If the results of the re-investigation indicate that the source continues to report the information you disputed, you have the right to contact the creditor directly or request us to include a notation regarding the disputed information. You may also submit a brief statement to CSC that will be included at the end of all subsequent credit reports which may serve as an explanation of any information you dispute.

Please note: If the re-investigation results in changing or deleting the information, you may request an updated credit report be sent to any credit grantor that received your credit report in the past six months (twelve months for New York and Maryland) and/or any company which received your credit report in the last two years for employment purposes.

Please see the enclosed summary of your rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act, as amended October 1, 1997.

Thank you for giving CSC the opportunity to serve you. Please submit future reinvestigations online at www.csccredit.com. You may also order your CSC credit report online at www.csccredit.com.
