About our database verification process

The company starts the verification (if) made to your credit file as a result of the information we received. If you still question or fear, then you may want to contact the source of the information.

The Federal Fair Credit Reporting Act says that you may:

- request a description of how we verified the information, including the business name and address associated and the telephone number if necessary, and/or
- add a comment disputing the accuracy or completeness of the information, and
- request that we send some copies to organizations who have reviewed your credit report in the past six years for creditworthiness purposes or six months for any other purpose.

If no identification between our responses appeared on the previous page:

By law, we cannot disclose certain medical information (relating to physical, mental, or behavioral health or condition). Although we do not generally collect such information, it could appear in the name of a data furnishor (i.e., "Cancer Center") that reports your payment history to us. If so, these names display in your report, but in reports to others they display only as MEDICAL PAYMENT DATA. Consumer statements included on your report at your request that contain medical information are disclosed to others.
